

To me September 11, 2001 was the worst tragedy in Americas' history that I lived through. Around 9:00 am the Principle Mr. Fagan came on the P.A. and told the school what had happened. At the time I didn't know exactly what actually had happened. During that day the T.V.s were on in all the classes watching and living this time I actually saw the and plane hit into the the other World Trade center tower. Again I really was confused. I didn't know who or what caused or made this happen against America. Who was actually this crazy as to kill 5000 innocent people while their at work. It was later known that Osama bin Laden and his terrorist groups were to blame. George W. Bush was the president and told us to stay united as a country. My Aunt worked at The World Trade Center on the 74 floor. She got out of the Building before the 2nd tower was hit, she said that the lights were flickering and the stairwall was shaking. Our family had no idea if she had made it out for another day. It was really great to see her face and knowing what she went through.
